

Generous in Every Way: Growing a Fully Formed Faith

2010 Western Christian Educators' Conference

October 10–13, 2010

This most generous God who gives seed to the farmer that becomes bread for your meals is more than extravagant with you. He gives you something you can then give away, which grows into full-formed lives, robust in God, wealthy in every way, so that you can be generous in every way, producing with us great praise to God.

— 2 Corinthians 9:10–11 (The Message)

Responding to a God who is extravagant with us so that we can be generous in every way is at the heart of the Christian tradition. Our most faithful response to this experience of God's grace is a life of gratitude and service.

How does such a generous faith grow? What is the church's role in its development? How can the community nurture persons who respond to God's extravagance with generosity in every aspect of their lives? What would such generosity look like — and how might it further the reign of God?

Reflect on these and other questions at this conference as we worship, pray, learn, and live into being God's fully-formed people — wealthy in every way.
